The job offer published by Emploi-Quebec tickled my curiosity. The stylist position you offer seems to totally meet my wishes. That is why I am quickly sending you my curriculum vitae.

Over the past years, I have learned to develop my creativity, while taking care of the customers' needs. Always looking out for new ideas, I always did everything I could to provide great style with equally great customer service. It goes without saying that team work and positive attitude are fundamental ingredients allowing me to offer a quality service at the salon.
